

Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural links in our Curriculum

Subject: PSHE

Spiritual

Pupils should:

- be reflective about and explore their own beliefs and experience, religious or otherwise;
- respect different people's faiths, feelings and values;
- enjoy learning about oneself, others and the surrounding world.

Children at Regent Farm are taught about themselves as growing and changing individuals with their own experiences and ideas, and as members of their communities.

Moral

Pupils should:

- recognise the difference between right and wrong and readily apply this understanding to their own lives;
- respect the law of England;
- understand the consequences of their behaviour and actions;
- offer reasoned views about moral and ethical issues;
- understand and appreciate the viewpoints of others.

At Regent Farm we encourage the development and practice of our school core values of Determination, Team Work, Respect and Curiosity alongside the British Values of Democracy, Tolerance, Mutual Respect, Rule of law and Liberty.

Social

Pupils should:

- use a range of social skills in different contexts, for example working and socialising with other pupils, including those from different religious, ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds.
- accept and engage with the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs;
- develop and demonstrate skills and attitudes that will allow them to participate fully in and contribute positively to life in modern Britain.

Children at Regent Farm are encouraged to play a positive role in contributing to the life of the school and the wider community. In so doing, we help develop their sense of self-worth.

Cultural

Pupils should:

- understand and appreciate the wide range of cultural influences that have shaped their own heritage and those of others;
- understand and appreciate the range of different cultures within school and further afield as an essential element of their preparation for life in modern Britain;
- show willingness to participate in and respond positively to artistic, musical, sporting and cultural opportunities;
- Show mutual respect for and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs and for those without faith.

At Regent Farm, class trips are planned to different places of worship which widen children's experiences and prepare them for life in Modern Britain by developing a deep sense of respect for equality and diversity.
